

Professional Indemnity

Professional Indemnity, sometimes referred to as PI, provides financial support for legal costs, as well as any resulting compensation payments, if a client takes you to court for an alleged mistake you have made when providing professional services or advice.

The number of businesses that require professional indemnity insurance is far-reaching. If your business provides advice or handles data then it really is critical. It's a fact of life that mistakes can happen, and even small errors can lead to significant claims which can have serious financial and reputational issues for a business. We will work with you to understand all your risks and provide a policy and level of cover that's appropriate for your business.
