

Trustee Indemnity

Trustee Indemnity cover offers protection for trustees and their charities in the event of a claim being made against them for their actions. Making even a small error can have serious financial and personal consequences, so having protection is critical.

Trustees bear a considerable amount of responsibility for their actions and the decisions they make. They are often at risk of claims for compensation, legal action and official investigations. These claims can often be very expensive and, it's important to remember, that without trustee indemnity insurance, a trustee can be personally liable to pay any costs.

Our policy is for trustees, governors, committee members and other not-for-profit organisations.
